ONLINE PAYMENT CENTRAL

Centralized management system of online payments issued to customers with multiple payment methods to choose from.

Today's society is extremely absorbent on the availability of time. As a way of minimizing the expenditure of time, a large part of the economic activity is carried out using the Internet.

The Pagmatic - Online Payment Central responds to this need by combining online payment functionalities with strict control of them, offering:

- › Multiple payment options;
- › Agility upon purchase and payment;
- › Reduce administrative costs;
- › Real-time information on the state of charge.

"Economy is a distributive virtue and consists not in saving but in choosing how to pay."

Edmund Burke
